

Annotation to discipline

“Organization and planning of mining operations”

Total work content of discipline learning is 3 points of credit (108 hours).

Purpose of discipline. To shape students' knowledge about modern requirements for specialists in the field of transport of mining companies, mining operations, repair, and maintenance of mining, and prepare future professionals for the performance of official duties at work and to further explore the disciplines related to technology and organization of work in the development of mineral deposits. The implementation of this knowledge into practice will improve the level of organization of work of a mining and improve the basic technical and economic performance of his work.

Tasks of discipline. One of the main objectives of the organization and planning of mining operations is to increase the basic technical and economic performance of the mining company.

Main didactic units (parts).

1. Basis for the organization of mining.
2. Fundamentals of Technical Regulation.
3. The scientific basis for the organization of labor in the mines.
4. Organization of wages.
5. The organization of the production process of a mining.
6. Organization of sewage treatment works.
7. The organization of mining and preparation work.
8. The organization of transport.
9. The organization of repair work in the mine.
10. The organization works on the surface of the mine processing facility.
11. The organization of the logistics of the mine and marketing.
12. Production planning at the mine.